Product Description

Amino S4 is a carefully made balance of 4 amino acids (AA) designed to increase attraction, increase nutritional value and to help stimulate feeding activity. Why Amino Acids? AAs are building blocks of protein and are present in food-based products such as, vegetable's e.g., Broccoli, starchy root vegetables like potato's, Seeds and Legumes, animal products such as milk, eggs, meat, and plant-based life such as duckweed, seaweed, and aquatic ferns. Using the protein profiles of AAs carp can detect and source a meal that is of high nutritional value, studies have indicated that from their olfactory rosettes on the sides of their head, they can detect AAs that are naturally dispersed by their food such as Snails, bloodworm, and the huge range of other tiny invertebrates.

Simply put if Amino's are there, food is there, and the higher concentration of AAs in one area, the higher the attraction of that area. Which for many is why Aminos are popular to use as a coating on boilies, an ingredient in base mixes or in glugs as a natural attractant to make a HNV bait for carp and fish that will keep them coming back for more.
